What do we Want?

StudentStarts is Canada's only high school 24-hour case study competition. High school students from across Ontario will work in teams, solving multiple case studies together.

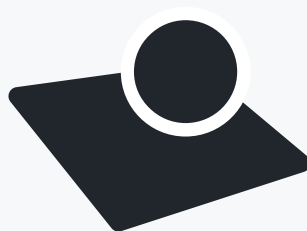

Students will be split up into teams of 7-10 people, in which they will work alongside throughout the entire event.

Each team will receive several business undergraduate level case studies throughout the competition and have 24-hours in total to create a presentation, concept validation, construction of solutions, etc. for the given case problem. Cases will focus on finance, marketing, business administration, and entrepreneurship.

During this time, students will also have the ability to attend hourly workshops, participate in team building activities, and engage with industry professionals.
